DECISION-MAKING IN UNCERTAINTY PROGRAMME

Leading for continuous relevance

MAIN OBJECTIVES:

Business leaders face the challenge of keeping one eye firmly on the now, while making strategic decisions that build future relevance and resilience into the organisation.

During the interactive online programme, participants will have the opportunity to hone their future facing strategic decision making skills by:

- Obtaining a solid overview of key drivers behind the extraordinary shifts the business world is facing today, their impact on business, as well as the out of ordinary opportunities and threats that are emerging
- Having traditional business understanding and norms tested, and alternative ones encouraged (business, industry, company, function, discipline, team, leadership philosophies)
- Painting an outward facing and agnostic picture of the business and competitive environment they are likely to operate in, and the impact on the organisation
- Letting go of assumptions and biases, expand their mindset and embrace new mental models to assist relevant information gathering, understanding and prioritisation
- Stretching the range and types of questions and solutions considered, as well as selecting relevant decision-making criteria
- Raise awareness of methodologies, processes and tools that facilitate relevant decision-making, in line with the new realities identified

LEARNING JOURNEY:

This virtual future-facing programme assists leaders in making relevant business decisions in uncertain times. Participants are taken on an intense and inspiring learning journey that combines, lecturing, expert speakers, facilitated interaction, group work, and individual exercises between sessions. The (LiVE) learning is adapted to the need of the organisation. The average programme length is 22 hours over 8 weeks, with activities off-line such as: applying learning in day-to-day activities, researching, reading and preparation: ranging from 10 to 12 hours during the programme.

The CEDEP has the label of the French government QUALIOPi which certifies the quality of the processes implemented in our programmes for talent development
