Achieving Managerial Excellence Programme (AME)

Programme:
9 days

Location:
France (Fontainebleau)

Main objectives of the programme:
Soft skills for Business
Create the right context for innovation and change and collaborate effectively across functions and geographies.

Peer group learning approach with participants of a similar level of responsibility.

Programme Description:
Act your way into a new way of thinking
Participants will be coached to transition from working firmly rooted in their own functional expertise, to an approach that depends on influencing and guiding diverse parties (many outside their direct control).

An innovation and change enabling journey ....

From doing it yourself to getting things done with and through others. Participants will learn how to harness energy and create the right context where ideas can emerge, people take initiatives and enjoy collaborating with others around them. It’s about building soft skills for business.

... built around real-life Leadership Challenges

→ Participants will identify a valuable idea within their organisation that hasn’t come to fruition yet and directly put into practice their learnings. It’s not about generating new ideas, it is about learning to create the right context, eliminating barriers to innovation and change, getting the buy in from different stakeholders, and accompanying their initiative to fruition.

Webinars are set up six months after the programme to share lessons learned and ensure participants are still incorporating their learnings and progressing on their Leadership Challenge project.

Participant profile:
General Managers, Functional Leaders
